1. A few Soviet citizens were resident in T'ungshien (112-59, 39-55) at the end of July 1949.
2. In the early part of July 1949, the former Japanese radio station* located three miles west of T'ungshien discharged all its employees. Some of the discharged employees reported that the new personnel at the station were one-third Chinese and two-thirds foreign "big-noses." One of the former employees believed that the station is now being used for direct contact with the USSR.

Comment. This radio station, which has been in operation for more than 25 years, was controlled by the Japanese from its inception until 1945.
